Is this the right home for you?

To live in this brand-new home with country rustic styling you will need to enjoy living with other residents as well as share the responsibilities that come with maintaining your own home. Don't worry this isn't as overwhelming as it sounds as there is 24/7 support available when you need it.

This home is suitable for people with disability who are seeking a Fully Accessible, Specialist Disability Accommodation and have medium to high support needs. You will also need to be funded for Supported Independent Living via the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).

The home

Living in this brand-new home will provide you with the best of modern living. Enjoy the company of your fellow residents or guests in the large backyard, alfresco area or open plan living space. Or if you need some time out, retreat to your own personal patio or large private bedroom with sitting space.

Your new bedroom features timber hybrid flooring and plenty of room for your belongings in the built in wardrobe. There is also a dressed, double-hung window, overlooking the backyard.
